

Superman only has solar power

Overview

Superman's original powers came from Earth's weaker gravity, not the sun's energy. Superman later became dependent on the yellow sun for his powers, creating new. Superman's unique biology gives him enhanced strength, durability, flight and other special abilities when he's near a yellow sun. This is also the case for other Kryptonians like Supergirl and General Zod, and Kryptonian-human hybrids like Superman's son Jon Kent. According to Superman Unchained. After telling his story, Clark is ditched on an alien planet for not being able to pay his rescuers for a ride home. Every flight, every feat of strength, every act of heroism is powered by a constant miracle: sunlight. Unfortunately, it could still lead to the Man of Tomorrow's death if.
